

MEDIA STATEMENT

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
5 March 2010

Commenting on the financial management of colleges in Scotland, a spokesperson from Scotland's Colleges stated;

'The finances of colleges are available freely in the public domain. It is entirely normal for salaries to be different across different colleges, and this is the same for all staff, as it is for senior management. This is due to differences in location, size and scale of each individual college.

All colleges in Scotland are audited by external auditors appointed by Audit Scotland, and their finances are monitored closely by the Scottish Funding Council. Any issues with financial management would have been highlighted in their reports, and this has not been the case."
