May 2010

'Art in the Park' courtesy of Langside College

NQ Art and Design students from Langside College will be hosting and preparing an art exhibition from the 21 to 23 May 2010. The exhibition will be housed within the Victorian Glasshouses in Queens Park, as part of the annual Southside Festival's "Art in the Park" event.

2010 is the first year the exhibition will be hosted out with Langside College and will be an excellent opportunity for the students to have their work displayed in public as part of a bigger event.

13 students are participating in the exhibition, each with at least three original pieces on display. The exhibition will highlight the wide range of media used throughout the NQ Art and Design course from printmaking and mixed media to more traditional art forms such as watercolour and acrylic painting. In addition to the Langside College students, other local artists work will also be on display.

The exhibition has been organised and prepared almost entirely by the students as a part of the NQ Art and Design course, from the marketing and promotion stage, through to preparation and installation of the exhibition itself. Being so heavily involved in the whole process has proved to be an invaluable learning experience for those students who wish to pursue a career in the Arts.

The exhibition will be a free event and will be open to all.
