High Marks for Conference

Borås Tidning (30 September 2006)

Viskastrandsgymnasiet and schools from five other countries hold a conference concerning a pilot project about quality assurance in VET-trainings.

Their common purpose is to work for what is the best for the students. They want to have better results and marks and they want to make sure that the students leave school with the right competence.

Juozas Baranauskas from Lithuania is project coordinator and he means that their partners already have a system for quality assurance that is working, but they have had to start from scratch.

The cooperation is working well and it has been very stimulating. We share our experiences with the others and are informed about the experiences of the other participants, says Anders Andrén, Principal at Viskastrandsgymnasiet.

Conferences are to be held in all the participating countries. Next time will be in Spain.
